TEHERAN IS THREATENED

Bolshevik Land on South Shore of Caspian

BERLIN.—(By United Press).—The Russian soviet government will reject the British armistice proposal and will not order red armies to halt their advance until a Bolshevik Poland has been established, according to a dispatch from Moscow, Thursday, quoting the government newspaper, Pravda.

POLES WRECK CITY

LONDON.—(By United Press).—Polish troops wrecked and destroyed the city of Bobruisk, southeast of Minsk, on the Berezina when Bolshevik forces drove them from the city, according to an official wireless dispatch from Moscow, Thursday. The dispatch stated the red advance was continuing successfully.

A message from Kovno said the Poles were evacuating Lithuania. Trouble was feared when the Poles began evacuation of the city of Vilnius. The Lithuanians will immediately occupy the place. Although the agreement between Lithuania and the Moscow government does not call for aggressive action by Lithuanian troops, the statement of the Lithuanians indicates a feeling of crisis between the latter and the Poles.

Bolshevik troops landed on the south shore of the Caspian Sea have been reinforced by fresh arrivals and are marching southward, according to the British war office. The reds were reported threatening Teheran. Persia has appealed to Great Britain for arms and ammunition to combat the advancing Bolsheviks.

An official Warsaw dispatch declared the Poles had withdrawn to the Vistula river, northwest of Vilna as a result of the strong Bolshevik pressure.

A desperate fighting the enemy reached Smorgon and Lido. The evacuated Dabao after a fierce struggle. East of Slutsk, the withdrawal is proceeding.

REDS ADVANCING

LONDON.—(By Associated Press).—Russian Bolshevik forces have forced their way across the Vistula river in the province of Vilna on the north, and have driven the Poles out of the city of Kamenetz-Podolsk on the southern end of the Polish front, according to an official statement issued in Moscow and received here by wireless.

West of Molodetchno, northwest of Minsk, the soviet forces are approaching the positions held by the German armies during the Polish campaign of 1918, the statement says. In the regions of Danovitchi and Slutsk, south of Minsk, the Bolshevik advance continues successfully, it is declared.

Pierce resistance on the part of the Poles on the entire front between the Dubna and Dnieper rivers is reported in the statement.

YANKEE YACHT IS OUT OF RACE

Forced to Quit When Throat Halcyards Part—Leading

SANDY HOOK, N. J.—(By Associated Press).—Resolute, defender of the America's cup, parted her throat halcyards which support her mainsail while leading Shamrock IV by about a half a mile to the turning point in Thursday's race of the 1920 series and was forced to withdraw. Although her star slipped half way down her mast, her skipper, Captain Charles Francis Adams, kept her sailing, until it was found impossible to continue.

Resolute turned the outer mark at 2:52:34, headed back for the finish, a run of 15 miles, with her two head sails drawing, her club top sail swinging helplessly, her crew meanwhile made every effort to replace the broken rope.

Turning the mark at 2:57:39 Shamrock passed the almost sailless Resolute at 3 o'clock.

Shamrock overtook the mark and wore around with a wide berth as she slipped past her rival.

WHEAT PIT OPENS AFTER LONG WAIT

First Time in Three Years Futures Sold in Chicago

START IN MODEST WAY

Law of Supply and Demand Again in Rule

CHICAGO.—(By Associated Press).—Bager watching by the grain trade thruout the world attended the resumption Thursday of pre-war methods of dealing in wheat. On the Chicago Board of Trade where the chief interest was centered, an entire absence of formality characterized the event.

For the first time since August 25, 1917, when the United States government assumed control over business in wheat, operations were permitted that went beyond mere limited quantities on a hand to mouth basis. Instead, the buying and selling of wheat was broadened out so as to include future as well as immediate delivery with no restriction as to amount except as guided by the regulating powers which the members of the board of trade had voted to the officials of the institution. To facilitate the new dealings, temporary quarters on the exchange floor were provided in the trading pit which in ante-bellum days was devoted to oats.

START IS MODEST

The plan of a modest start in the former oats pit was adopted on the assumption that it would take considerable time for the wheat market to adjust itself to an open supply and demand basis. In this connection, L. F. Gates, president of the board of trade, said speculative trading would be encouraged only to the extent necessary to furnish a stabilizing influence. He added that not until transportation conditions became more normal, could the market in future deliveries be expected to afford the full measure of protection against buyers and sellers to which they had been accustomed.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND

"Today is significant and important," said President Gates, "in that it marks the re-entry of the law of supply and demand into the trading pit where buyers and sellers in the open market, absolutely responsive to actual conditions affecting values, again operate that marketing machinery, which Herbert Hoover designated the most economical in the world."

Prior to Thursday the last recorded transactions here in future delivery of wheat were for September 1917 at $2.11 1/2 a bushel. Since that time wheat for immediate delivery has sold in Chicago as high as $3.35 and as low as $2.18, the latter being the government's initial guarantee price, which was subsequently advanced to $2.28. Yesterday, a crop of new wheat, grading as No. 4, brought $2.37 a bushel.

SCHOOL VOTE MAY BE FORCED

Court Action Sought in the Michigan Amendment

DETROIT, Mich.—(By Associated Press).—A writ of mandamus ordering the secretary of state to place on the ballot for the coming election the proposed constitutional amendment calling for abolition of private and parochial schools in Michigan, will be asked of the state supreme court, James Hamilton, head of the Wayne-Civil League, announced.

The secretary of state had announced the amendment would not be placed on the ballot following an opinion by Attorney General Alexander Groesbeck that it conflicts with the federal constitution. The petition asking a writ will cite that neither the secretary of state nor the supreme court can bar submission of an amendment under the initiative act, it was said. It also will be maintained no action can be taken by the courts against the amendment until it has become law.

TOLEDO RAIL-LIGHT FILES INVENTORY FOR AN INCREASED RATE

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—To support its contention that it is entitled to higher rates in Toledo, the Toledo Railway and Light Company has filed an inventory statement with the public utilities commission, showing that its electric department replacement valuation is $16,829,706. The company has also filed application with the commission, asking that it fix steam heating rates for the coming heating season, granting an increase over last year's charges.

TAKING FINGER PRINTS OF NEW BORN URGED

NEW YORK.—The bureau of missing persons of the police department was on record as favoring enactment of a law requiring physicians, filling birth certificates, to include finger prints of every new born child, thus "furnishing scientific identification of every person from the cradle to the grave."

Such a record would be valuable, it was said, not only in pursuit of criminals, but in proper identification of persons killed in accident.

STRIKE CAUSE OF ONE DEATH

Fifty Injured When Chicago Street Cars Are Crippled

CHICAGO.—(By Associated Press).—A 14 year old girl was killed and probably fifty injured in today's automobile accidents resulting from congestion caused by an unexpected strike of 192 street car electricians which seriously crippled the transportation lines of the city.

The girl was killed when a motor truck carrying 40 persons to work crashed into a telephone pole. Union officials said the strike would affect 3,000 workers, but the company declared it could maintain partial service thru non-union employees.

About half of the 32 power houses were closed by the electrician strike, but the others were running with non-union men, according to street car officials, who said that 149 cars were running on the principal lines this morning and that more would be added thru the day.

Operation of the elevated lines, which were not affected by the strike, prevented a complete tieup of transportation in the early hours when no surface cars were running.

Union officials said the strikers were demanding increases in pay of about 33 per cent. The strikers also expressed dissatisfaction over working conditions and declared non-union men had been employed by the company.

NEW UPRISING IN MEXICO, REPORT

Former Candidate for Presidency Leads Revolt, Claim

MEXICO CITY.—(By United Press).—Intimation that Pablo Gonzalez, former candidate for the Mexican presidency, had revolted against the De La Huerta-Oregon government, was contained in an announcement made by the war ministry Thursday that one of Gonzalez' generals, Irineo Villareal, had started an uprising at Monterrey.

Villareal was defeated by the government troops as he had only 60 men. It was believed the uprising was for the purpose of covering flight from the city of General Gonzalez who was expected to mobilize a force against the present Mexican regime.

Government advisers from the federal general Arnulfo Gomez stated documents had been taken from prisoners showing Gonzalez had inspired the uprising. If found he will be tried on charges of treason, it was announced.

Followers of Gonzalez were reported to have gathered at Monterrey. They also held the railroad from Monterrey to Laredo, which has been interrupted for some time. The railroad from Monterrey to Tampico was also reported in the hands of Gonzalez followers.

ACCUSED OF PLOT

Seven Charged With Evading Bankruptcy Laws

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press).—Charged with having conspired to help Harry Sorin, London merchant to evade the federal bankruptcy laws by concealing goods taken from his stores at London, Mount Sterling and Milford Center, after a petition for bankruptcy had been filed by him, six persons were at liberty Thursday on $1,000 bond after arraignment before United States Commissioner Gumble here. Sorin also out on bond, is charged with direct evasion of the law.

The persons who appeared before the commissioner after goods to the amount of several thousand dollars had been found on their premises were Sorin and wife; Armour Eggle, Mount Sterling; Aaron Howells and wife, Harrisburg; Joe Bronstein and Mrs. Minnie Udin, Columbus.

TICKET CHOSEN BY NEW PARTY

Headed By Christensen and Hayes as Running Mate

PART OF THE 48-ERS BOLT

Farmer-Labor Party Born of Fusion Groups

CHICAGO.—(By Associated Press).—The Farmer-Labor party, born of a fusion of numerous political groups, today has a platform and has its new candidates in the field for the coming election. Its work was completed at 4 o'clock Thursday morning when the convention after an all day and night session, chose Farley Pr-Ker Christensen, Salt Lake City attorney, and Max S. Hayes, Cleveland labor leader, as its presidential and vice-presidential nominees, respectively.

But the strength of the new movement remains to be seen. The first test came Thursday when a group of dissatisfied delegates, formerly allied with the committee of 48, met and considered placing their own ticket in the field under the 48 banner. Not all of the forty-eight delegates withdrew from the fusion convention Wednesday night when some 100 or more returned to their own convention. Those who remained were rewarded by seeing Christensen the chairman of their own convention, selected to lead the fusion party, while the labor leaders contented themselves with the election of a national chairman, Hayes, to second place.

Forty-eight delegates declined to say what effect this concession would have on their course when they met Thursday. It was apparent that Christensen's nomination, which was strongly the elements remaining in the convention. One report was current that the dissatisfied forty-eighters would confine their activities to organizing anew for a purely educational movement.

J. A. H. Hopkins, national chairman of the forty-eighters, addressed the farmer-labor meeting after reports became prevalent that a bolt had been determined upon by him and his friends and denied that such an agreement had been reached. He avoided saying, however, that none was in contemplation and, in statements issued for publication, criticized the dominant labor group for its handling of the amendment and declared a great opportunity had been missed.

NOT ALL HARMONY
Not all was harmony in the fusion convention during the hours of the platforming and the election of officers. Heated debate developed also over the choice of a name for the new born political group. The forty-eighters carried their unsuccessful campaign, but the fusionists, who were the majority, carried the day.

Should the platform men strike the street car system of the city probably would be completely tied up.

MILLER IS AGAIN APPOINTED

Former Delphos Man Renamed State Supt. Public Work

COLUMBUS, O.—(By Associated Press).—John I. Miller, Democrat, was appointed as public works by Governor Cox. The appointment is for one year. It was the sixth time Miller has been appointed head of the department.

In his annual report submitted to the governor today, Miller shows the department to have collected during the year, $215,366 49 from leases on state canal lands and at state lands. Expenditures amounted to $83,474.77. Miller's salary is $22,000 over the previous year on account of the legislature relieving the city of Cincinnati of $22,000 for leases of canal lands in that city.

DECIDES TO DIE AFTER QUARREL WITH HIS WIFE

AKRON, Ohio.—Phil Connors, 31, is at the City Hospital with a bullet wound below his heart, suffered Wednesday night, police say, when he shot himself after a quarrel with his wife.

Hospital authorities said Thursday Connors will live. He admitted he and his wife had been quarreling and that he decided to "end it all."

ESTATE GOES TO HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA.—The estate left by the late Cecil B. Hine, Youngstown attorney, was appraised today at $1,126,000. The estate was left in trust for several heirs after whose death the entire amount goes to St. Elizabeth's hospital here.

WALL-ST BETS CHANGE IN FAVOR OF COX

NEW YORK.—Wall-st. bettors were offering odds Thursday of 7 to 5 that Governor Cox would carry Ohio in the November election. The odds of the 2-1-2 to 1 in favor of Harding as quoted on Wednesday were shaded to 2 to 1 Thursday.

10,000 CALLED TO CHILE COLORS

Action Grows Out of Bolivian Revolution, Report

SANTIAGO, Chile.—(By Associated Press).—Chile has called to the colors military elements of 1915 to 1919, inclusive, of the four northern provinces of the country. It is understood this action was taken in view of the international situation arising in connection with the Bolivian revolution.

Information received here indicates the call involves about 10,000 men. Among the units called to the colors are the brigade reserve of 1915 and 1919, which cover the aviation, railway and telegraph services, and some reserve officers of all arms have also been summoned for duty.

This action followed a day in which, so far as is publicly known, little news drifted out of Bolivia, which has been isolated by the censorship established by the defacto government, headed by Bautista Saavedra.

An official dispatch stated that former President Jose G. Gutierrez Guerra and members of his staff have been deported from Bolivia.

Guarantees for the safety of the deposed president and the members of his cabinet have been furnished by the provincial government of Bolivia upon request of the United States minister to that country, according to dispatches received by the foreign office from the Chilean charge d'affaires at LaPaz.

LINEMEN OUT AT COLUMBUS

Street Car Employees and Linemen Demand Pay Increases

COLUMBUS.—(By Associated Press).—With 100 linemen of the Columbus Rail-Light Company and the Municipal Light plant on strike since midnight Wednesday night, interest centered today on platform men who recently submitted demands for 50 per cent wage increase to the rail-light company with Wednesday set as the final one for the company to reply. Union leaders assert that the company as yet has taken no action.

City council recently tabled wage demands of the striking light plant linemen, submitted June 28, while leaders of the rail-light strikers state that that company refused them a hearing on their demand for higher wages and better working conditions.

Should the platform men strike the street car system of the city probably would be completely tied up.

COX PLANS LINEUP OF MOOSERS

Will Make Appeal to Progressive Elements

COLUMBUS.—(By United Press).—Democratic Nominee Cox, in his campaign tour plans to direct a strong appeal toward the progressive elements of both parties.

It is probable that Cox and Roosevelt will have an early conference with Bainbridge Colby, now secretary of state, and Victor Murdock, of the federal trade commission, both former Bull Moosers, for the purpose of discussing plans to bring the remnants of the old Progressive Party into the Democratic fold. Colby, Murdock and other Bull Moosers, now lined up with the Democrats, will be asked to take a prominent part in the campaign, it was learned.

Another feature of the Cox progressive campaign will be an attempt to paint Senator Harding as a reactionary, as indicated in the democratic nominee's statement Wednesday. Several times recently Cox has declared that "the current spot is progressive," and that the trend is toward "a new day, based on the lessons of the past."

Just as Senator Harding apparently is trying to split the Democrats by replying to Cox's declaration that "no time has a definite decision been made to adopt the front porch campaign," there will be no final decision reached until the national committee meets, he said.

Cox Thursday declined to indicate his preference for the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee, which is to meet here to formulate campaign plans next Tuesday. He praised Homer S. Cummings, present chairman of his committee, and Ed H. Moore for his work as Cox convention manager. Indications are that Moore does not desire the chairmanship.

"PLACES" HARDING

Another feature of the Cox progressive campaign will be an attempt to paint Senator Harding as a reactionary, as indicated in the democratic nominee's statement Wednesday. Several times recently Cox has declared that "the current spot is progressive," and that the trend is toward "a new day, based on the lessons of the past."

NO PORCH CAMPAIGN

Harry M. Daugherty, Harding's convention manager, in a statement, here replying to Cox's declaration that "no time has a definite decision been made to adopt the front porch campaign," there will be no final decision reached until the national committee meets, he said.

Cox Thursday declined to indicate his preference for the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee, which is to meet here to formulate campaign plans next Tuesday. He praised Homer S. LIGHT IS THROWN ON MURDER

Slain Woman, Assault Victim, Before She Is Killed

NEW LONDON, Conn.—Mrs. Florence De Cordova, wife of a New York broker, who was slain by her chauffeur, Bernard Geisler, near here, was brutally attacked before she was killed, authorities said Thursday.

Marked were found on her throat indicating she was choked until unconscious, Dr. F. L. Payne, who examined the body, informed Prosecutor Attorney Benjamin S. Hewitt. Geisler's body was claimed by his wife, and taken back to New York. She said she had quarreled with her husband because of Mrs. De Cordova before they separated. She found him carrying a lock of Mrs. De Cordova's hair, she said, and also learned he had two pictures of the woman.

Mrs. Geisler said she called Mrs. De Cordova on the telephone at the time and remonstrated with her, but would not repeat what Mrs. De Cordova said in reply.

DROP IN COAL SEEN

Operators and Rail Men Predict Shortage Relief

NEW YORK.—(By Associated Press).—A reduction in the price of bituminous coal was predicted here Thursday by members of the sub-committee of railroad officials and coal operators meeting here to complete details of a plan to relieve the coal shortage in New York city, New England and the northwest. By a scientific distribution of cars, the committee hopes to provide a steady stream of coal to the affected districts. Under this plan, the committee members believe, the coal speculators will find it impossible to act the high prices that the shortage has made possible.

NEGRO HELD FOR MURDER

AKRON.—George Martin, 37, colored, of 2242 Woodlawn-ave., charged with the murder of Elizabeth Lewis, colored, here, April 20, was arrested Thursday morning in Pittsburgh, Pa., and arrangements are being made to bring him to Akron.

Can't Comply With Coal Demands, Simons Says

OFFER COUNTER-PROPOSALSHave Done All Possible Now, the Teutons Claim

SPA, Belgium.—(By United Press).—The conditions under which the German delegation here agreed to accept the allied demands for 3,000,000 tons of coal monthly will be considered at a conference to be held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, it was announced.

The session scheduled for 11 o'clock "this morning" was not held. Pending Thursday afternoon's meeting the allies held up their ultimatum notifying Germany that allied troops would occupy the Ruhr region as a result of Germany's rejection of the coal demands.

Although official details of the German acceptance conditions were not announced, it was understood Germany agreed to deliver 1,700,000 tons monthly until October 1, after which 2,000,000 tons monthly would be delivered.

ASK FOOD IN RETURN

The Germans declared these deliveries would be made providing the allies gave the Germans 50 francs of food for every ton of coal turned over.

It was learned these terms are not acceptable to the allies and the Germans would be notified of this effect at Thursday afternoon's meeting.

Foreign Minister Simons, in an interview at noon declared the Germans had done all possible toward meeting the allied demands. "I hope the allies will agree with us, but if Koch wants an invasion of Germany, I suppose he will have it," he said.

The conditions under which the German delegates agreed to accept the allied coal ultimatum included:

The allies must send a mixed commission to Essen to study conditions and supervise feeding of miners.

Germany must be given necessary credit to purchase food.

Germany must allow the entire output of the mines of Upper Silesia, or be guaranteed 1,500,000 tons monthly to supply her own industries.

ACCEPTANCE REPORTED

SPA, Belgium.—(By United Press).—Germany has accepted the allied demand for delivery of 3,000,000 tons of coal monthly, thereby avoiding necessity for allied occupation of the Ruhr, plans for which had been completed, Dr. Bonn, one of the German delegates, notified Premier Lloyd George of the German delegation's decision at 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

The Germans will submit a protest against the coal terms and will offer counter-proposals seeking modification of the demands. Acceptance of the coal ultimatum came after notice from the allies that Germany would be invaded by allied forces Friday morning, if the demands were rejected.

Pressed by MILLERAND
The allied decision to enforce the coal demands came as a result of pressure exerted by Premier Millerand, who insisted that immediate action be taken to obtain fulfillment of the treaty terms.

Count Sforza, Italian foreign minister, understood they favored further discussion of the coal question with the Germans.

After both had talked with Premier Millerand, however, formal notice was given the German ultimatum was to be heeded Germany Thursday and if the demands were not accepted, allied occupation of German territory would begin immediately.

ANXIETY BECOMES TENSE
There was an ominous feeling of tension among delegates during the hours just preceding the German acceptance.

Marshal Foch, after conferring with the allied commanders, declared sufficient military forces were available to enforce the coal demands.

"Having been informed that the allies and the Germans were not talking the same language, I felt it was an interpreter," said the allied military chief. He tapped his revolver holster as he spoke.

It was understood that the occupying force agreed upon, consisted of French, British and Belgian troops. Italy also was to have been asked to contribute a small force, as a sign of allied solidarity.

There will be a meeting at the Villa Fraleneu Thursday, at which the allies will formally notify the Germans that their acceptance has been satisfactory.

REGISTRATION AT MEMORIAL HALL

Former Fighters Asked to Apply For Medals July 22

Memorial Hall will be used to register former soldiers who desire to make application for victory medals July 22, if the recruiting office here proves too small to take care of the crowd, Sergeant Long, in charge of the recruiting station said Thursday.

On that date a field clerk will be here from Toledo, and an effort will be made to give every former soldier in Allen a chance to make application for his medal.

A copy of the soldier's discharge is required, and in case the discharge does not contain a full record of engagements, offensives, etc., in which he has participated a sworn statement should be prepared in advance. This is necessary, Long said, in order that the proper number of clasps may be placed on the medal.

Every man who was a member of the armed forces of the U. S. during the world war is entitled to one of the medals.

Medals for soldiers who engaged in actual fighting are distinguished from those who were not in combat by affixing stars, one for each major operation of the American forces in which the soldier participated and one for each defensive action.

RESERVOIR TO BE REPAIRED

Big Sum is Authorized to Remove Flood Menace

Work of repairing defects in the northwest corner of the billion gallon Lost creek reservoir which city officials declare would, if left as it is at present, become a flood menace as soon as the huge reservoir is filled with water, is to commence as soon as a satisfactory bid is received, Service Director Elmer McClain announced Thursday.

The appropriation ordinance passed by the city council provides for $7,000 to carry out this work, he said. The service department will advertise for bids within a short time.

The alleged menace is created by a section of the northwest corner of the levee which is said to be built on such a steep angle that water filled with water it gradually takes its natural slope, causing the top-rip to cave in and in all probability result eventually in a break in the levee at this point.

Service Director McClain said the defect will be remedied by the purchase of land adjoining the reservoir and moving the levee sufficiently to allow it to take its natural slope of one to three.

While $7,000 has been appropriated for the work, McClain said it probably can be done for much less.

NORFOLK AND WESTERN GETS PERMIT TO TRADE STOCK FOR BONDS

WASHINGTON—Authority was given today by the Interstate Commerce commission to exchange unimpaired common capital now in the treasury stock for convertible bonds of three different series. These bonds include 20-year four per cent payable September 1, 1932; 10-year four and one-half per cent payable September 1, 1933, and ten-year six per cent payable September 1, 1935.

The first series would be retired out of an issue of common stock of an aggregate par value of $12,500,000, the second out of an issue of stock of an aggregate par value of $18,532,000, and the third out of an aggregate par value of $17,945,000. Profit or forecast of this work was $17,945,000.

MISS HELEN TAFT WEDS AT RESORT IN CANADA

MURRAY BAY, Que.—Miss Helen Taft, daughter of ex-President William Howard Taft, was married here Thursday to Frederick Johnson Manning, professor in American history at Yale University, New Haven.

Miss Taft, who was formerly president of Bryn Mawr College, was given away by her father.

The wedding was attended by many Americans who are spending the summer months at this resort.

The newly wed couple will leave shortly for a tour of Canada and return via the Northern Union States to New Haven.

INSTANT POSTUM

"There's a Reason"

LIMA BOOSTERS

Everyone knows "Bob" Tolan. Bob is 59 years old but he has many friends among the younger Limaites as he has among the old timers. Those who have ventured a journey on the sea of matrimony know him as the benevolent (?) dispenser of marriage licenses at the court house, where he is assistant probate judge.

Like Senator Harding and Governor Cox, the two presidential nominees, Bob got his education in a printing shop—at the Delphos Herald.

Bob was born in Delphos in 1869. He came to Lima when only a young man and has since been an earnest booster in everything that furthered the interests of Lima. He has lived in Allen-co all his life.

Bob is an Elk and among his fraternity brothers is known as "The Jolliest of the Elks." Bob is a Moose and a Woodman, too.

He has thrown his hat in the ring for the probate judgeship on the Democratic ticket.

SIGN INSPECTION

New Ordinance For Lima Will Be Prepared Soon

Annual inspection by the safety department of all signs extending more than three feet over the sidewalk is a provision which will be incorporated in a new sign and billboard ordinance to be prepared soon by Mayor Frank A. Burkhardt said Thursday.

The mayor has a list of the principal features of ordinances from various cities of Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan he said, which will be used in drafting the ordinance for this city.

Other outstanding features which will be incorporated in the Lima ordinance are provisions that all signs extending more than three feet over the sidewalks must be illuminated and the establishment of 12 feet as the minimum height over the sidewalks.

Billboards when erected in vacant lots must not be closer than 15 feet to sidewalks or residences, as planned at present, the mayor said.

Other outstanding features which will be incorporated in the Lima ordinance are provisions that all signs extending more than three feet over the sidewalks must be illuminated and the establishment of 12 feet as the minimum height over the sidewalks.

LOCOMOTIVE WORKS FILES SUIT TO RECOVER MONEY

Suit for $6,101.40 was filed Thursday morning in common pleas court by the Lima Locomotive Works, claiming that this sum is due from the Nickel Plate Gravel company of Fairview, Pa.

The Locomotive Works, in its petition charges that the defendant refused to pay $5,262 due them for repair and work upon a locomotive. Added expense in attempting to collect this sum from the Nickel Plate company, the petition avers, places the defendants in debt to the Lima concern to the amount asked.

CENSUS REPORT

WASHINGTON—An error, due to duplication, has changed the population of Newark, N. J., to 411,216 instead of 415,669 as previously announced, or a decrease of 4,453. The census bureau announced. Census figures announced today follow:

Trinidad, Colo., 10,966, increase 700 or 6.9 per cent.

Illinois, 3,559,122, increase 61,000 or 2.34 per cent.

Honolulu, 33,327, increase 31,144 or 59.7 per cent.

Hilo, 10,431, increase 3,686 or 54.6 per cent.

BOY IS RECOVERING

Today, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bush, Pittsburgh, is recovering at St. Rita's hospital, after the removal of his left eye last Saturday night, and will soon be able to leave the hospital. Injuries were suffered when he fell thru the glass in a storm-front buggy while visiting with his mother at the J. E. Moritz home, New Stark.

FISHERMAN HAS LUCK

MARIETTA—William Kauff, fisherman, was in the Muskingum river near here all morning and didn't get a bite. He was disgusted. He started to pull in. He felt a tug at his line and from the way it pulled Kauff was sure it was a turtle. Instead he dragged in an old rusted bucket, in which he found two silver forks, a number of dollar bills and numerous silver coins. He carried home no fish, but was richer by $50 and two silver forks.

PICTURES AT SCHOOL

Romance, tournaments, battles and gladiators. Those are the things to expect if you go to the big open air picture show at Lincoln school Thursday night or to Whittier Friday at 7:30 p. m. It's all founded on facts, too. Mr. Biddle of the Y. M. C. A., has arranged to show the picture "Spartacus" for the benefit of the Child Welfare League. Spartacus was a leader of the Roman gladiators in 76 B. C., and this is a romantic story of his life.

LABOR RECORDS OF TWO PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES ARE TO BE PUBLISHED

WASHINGTON—A comparison of the labor records of Governor James M. Cox and Warren G. Harding, Democratic and Republican presidential candidates, will be issued by the American Federation of Labor soon, it was expected Thursday.

The data on the candidates followed the federation's statement on both platforms. The statement on the Democratic platform issued Wednesday, says that the "Democratic platform marks a measure of progress not found in the platform of the Republican party."

MOB SEIZES MAIL

Dublin Postoffice Raided by 50 Armed Men

DUBLIN—(By United Press)—Fifty armed men raided the main postoffice here early Thursday, seizing all government mail.

Several police were wounded in a fight with Sinn Feiners at Poynes, County Limerick. The Sinn Feiners ambushed the constables on the outskirts of the town.

Military authorities seized 539 rounds of ammunition at Burratty Castle, County Clare.

The railway strike was assuming serious proportions Thursday as a result of refusal to handle munitions or work trains carrying armed soldiers and police. At Clones, County Monaghan, five railway men were kidnapped by armed men and conveyed in a motor car to an unknown destination. It was believed they were kidnapped because they worked on trains carrying ammunition in the places of dismissed men.

GRAND DECORATION OF CHIVALRY CONFERRED BY OHIO ODD FELLOWS

PIEDMONT, Ohio.—Several thousand persons assembled in court-house park on Tuesday night to witness the ceremony in connection with the conferring of the grand decoration of chivalry at the annual grand encampment of the I. O. O. F. here.

Mayor Day, Fremont, gave the address of welcome on Tuesday. A grand ball was a feature on Tuesday night. The closing session will be held on Wednesday.

Grand encampment officers installed Grand patriarch, John P. Lynn, Portsmouth; high priest, Albert Klecker, Mansfield; senior warden, H. S. Barrows, Cleveland; grand scribe, P. C. Garnet, Dayton; treasurer, W. J. Emmons, Sidney; representative Rolfe J. Smith, Port Clinton.

The patriarchal militant officers are: President, General Fred Hahn, Toledo; vice-president, William C. Ryan, Dayton; secretary, Fred Hummel, Elvira; treasurer, Frank Garret, Dayton; chaplain, George Brunel, Newport. St. Cinton may be the next meeting place.

BOOTLEGGERS FINED HEAVILY AT TOLEDO

TOLEDO.—Gun play featured liquor raids conducted by federal prohibition enforcement agents. Dan Brouillard and Vesile Tarope, negroes, tried to escape when confronted by the operators of still but were stopped by a fusillade. During the day four of six persons arrested paid fines ranging from $200 to $300. A number of stills were confiscated.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Harry L. Riser, 26, Bellefontaine, and Nora Ward, 21, Lima, Elmer C. Tate, 21, Dayton and Marcella Blaine 18, Harrod.

OHIO BAKERS TO MEET

COLUMBUS—Establishment of standard weights for bread in Ohio will be a subject for debate at the annual convention of the Ohio Association of the Baking Industry here July 27-28. Jay Burns of Omaha will speak in opposition to the plan, which is in effect in many states and is favored by W. Crider, Homestead, Pa., will speak in favor of the standard weight loaf. Both men are bakers.

John Pfeiffer, Ohio Fair Pies Commissioner, is scheduled to speak before the bakers on July 27.

TOO MUCH LUCK

AKRON.—One Mrs. Petrovich, six years old, who was visiting with his father and brothers in the union station, was drawn under a passenger train by suction.

Six coaches passed over the boy. When the train had passed Gus got up, shaking and laughing. He had been thrown between the rails and was uninjured, but frightened.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK—Foreign exchange was lower at the opening Thursday. Pound sterling was $3.87 1/2, off 1/4; francs 12.17, off 1/4; lire 17.12, off 24; marks 2.53, off .0005; Canadian dollars .2515.

CHLOROFORM DRUNK FINED

COLUMBUS—Marvin Martin of this city decided he needed a stimulant and unable to obtain whiskey, snuffed chloroform until he became helpless and was arrested for drunkenness. In municipal court he was sentenced to 30 days in the city prison and to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

CITY PLAN URGED BY SPEAKER

Rogers Unable to Speak at C. of C. Forum Luncheon

Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Central Congregational church of Brooklyn, is an eloquent address before two hundred members of the Lima Chamber of Commerce at the Lima House Thursday made a strong appeal for recognition of cities by following a city plan as is done in European cities.

Dr. Cadman also made an appeal for the chaletauque, "simply ask you to recognize the chaletauque," he said, after designating it as one of the important educational factors of the country.

GIVES OUT POLICY

Judge Wanamaker Announces Platform in Senate Race

COLUMBUS—(By United Press)—Judge R. M. Wanamaker, of the supreme court, Thursday announced his "primary platform" on which he will seek the Republican nomination for the United States senate.

Here are the four planks in his "primary platform":

No bosses for nomination.

No managers, hired missionaries, paid propagandists, no headquarters, save in the homes and hearts of the people of the farms and the factories, the business and professional men who believe in a square deal for 20th-Century government.

My public service in the courts is offered as the best guarantee of what my public service would be in the United States senate.

AMERICANS CONTRACT TO SUPPLY COAL TO NORWAY GOVERNMENT

LONDON—It is reported here that a contract has been made with a body of American coal shippers by the Norwegian Government for the supply of a large amount of coal. Special shipping facilities are said to have been given by Norway for the conveyance of the coal, and the contract will operate to the advantage of America in obtaining supplies of wood pulp for paper.

With the decontrol of coal by the British Government there also comes a further diminution of the amount available for export. So that there is little expectation of any appreciable reduction in price or increase in quantity. The production of the South Wales coal fields is to be further reduced by 250,000 tons per month, and of the quantity too be exported 45 per cent will be allocated to France, 20 per cent to Italy and 35 per cent to the home market.

COAL TRAFFIC IMPROVES

COLUMBUS—A slight improvement in the car supply to Ohio coal fields is reported, but this is believed to be only temporary, the Coal Traffic League will say in Friday's issue. The order of the Interstate Commerce commission, restricting the use of open-top equipment for the transportation of coal, is having its effect on the car supply. There has been a better run at all of the Ohio mines and a better feeling is shown in coal circles.

GIRL IS IMPROVING

The daughter of Miss Nina Hammond, 20-year-old former St. Marys girl who attempted to end her life Wednesday by drinking iodine in her rooming house, Main and Pearl-sts, was reported much improved Thursday afternoon at the City Hospital. Physicians attending the girl state that unless complications set in she will be able to be released within the next few days.

WILL ATTEND FUNERAL

The women of the Lima Review No. 43, of the Macabees will meet at the cemetery chapel on Friday morning at 9 o'clock to attend the funeral of Mrs. Brammer.

B. & O. RAISES TRACKS

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad is raising its tracks along the station platform so they will be level with the curb. It is claimed this will help in loading and unloading express, etc. Over 150 feet of track will be raised.

JUSTICE BOTKIN RECOVERING

Friends of Justice of the Peace E. M. Botkin, who went to Dayton a few weeks ago to recuperate from a nervous breakdown, have received word from him that he is fast recovering. Botkin said he hopes to be back in Lima within a few months.

SOUR STOMACH

When vegetable food ferments it causes sour risings in the throat, the formation of gas in the stomach which distends it and causes pain often extending to the region of the heart and arousing a fear of heart disease. This condition is called acid dyspepsia.

It is a condition that can be corrected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to tone up the digestive organs and by a proper selection of food. Send today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the diet book, "What to Eat and How to Eat." It contains information about the diet in health and sickness and is free on request.

It gives complete information regarding the tonic treatment of many forms of stomach trouble with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. There cannot be better direction without a sufficient supply of red blood and there is no better tonic than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to enrich the blood and tone up the stomach.

Your own druggist can supply you with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.

EIGHT INJURED IN TWO AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

AKRON, O.—Four men were injured, two seriously, in an automobile crash near here Wednesday afternoon. Jesse Truett, 22, suffered a fractured leg and V. Jewell, 23, was cut and bruised. One car going toward Akron skidded and was struck by a car being driven in the opposite direction.

HARDING SEEKING WOMAN VOTE

Prompted By Vermont G. O. P. Refusal to Call Assembly

MARION, Ohio.—(By United Press).—Senator Harding has opened a fight to capture the woman's vote in face of the recent refusal of Vermont's Republican governor to call a special session of the legislature to act on the suffrage amendment.

Plans of militant suffragists to make anti-Harding capital out of Governor Clement's action have been thwarted by the Republican candidate's warm defense of his party's suffrage record in a statement made public late Wednesday, his friends believe.

Harding's action, his advisors hoped, would put the party and the nominee so clearly on record as favoring suffrage that militants would find little reason for picketing the Harding front porch July 22, as planned.

The emphasis laid on the fact that 29 Republican states have voted for the amendment, as against six Democratic states, it was believed, would prove a final answer to campaign claims of political opponents. One Republican state only has rejected the amendment as against six Democratic, Harding said.

IN U. S. THREE YEARS, TAKE SCHOOL HONORS

HOUGHTON, Mich.—Announcement of class honors at the Hancock High school commencement recently included Olga Seide, 17, No. 2, and Frederika Seide, 16, No. 7, in a list of ten. The girls are Russian Jews. They came to Hancock with their mother from Russia three years ago, knowing not a word of English.

Hot Days Trying On Elderly Folks

Sluggish, languid, constipated feeling is quickly removed by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

THOSE who are past the prime of life know the discomforts of hot weather. Exercise is tiring, and constant sitting around soon brings constipation. It is especially dangerous for elderly people to allow constipation to continue for it creates poisons in the system that may bring on a serious illness.

If you pass a single day without full and free elimination, do so many thousands of elderly folks do and at once take a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and you will find prompt relief. It is only by doing this that you can be sure of feeling well. You must not trust constipation to correct itself.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is particularly suited to elderly people as it is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts gently and without causing trouble to the system. It can be used exclusively without loss.

Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington Street, Monticello, Ill., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought during last year, the largest sale in the world.

Some of the old-time workers have not yet grown accustomed to the new regime.

One of them, who had been a shipyard man all his life, but had just tackled this particular job, went to the boss one morning with a 100 per cent grievance.

"Look here," he expostulated, "I may be a new man and all that, but there's a hint to what I stand for. You don't need to have that detest-five 'chase' me around all the time."

"What's 'a'nt' you?" queried the big chief.

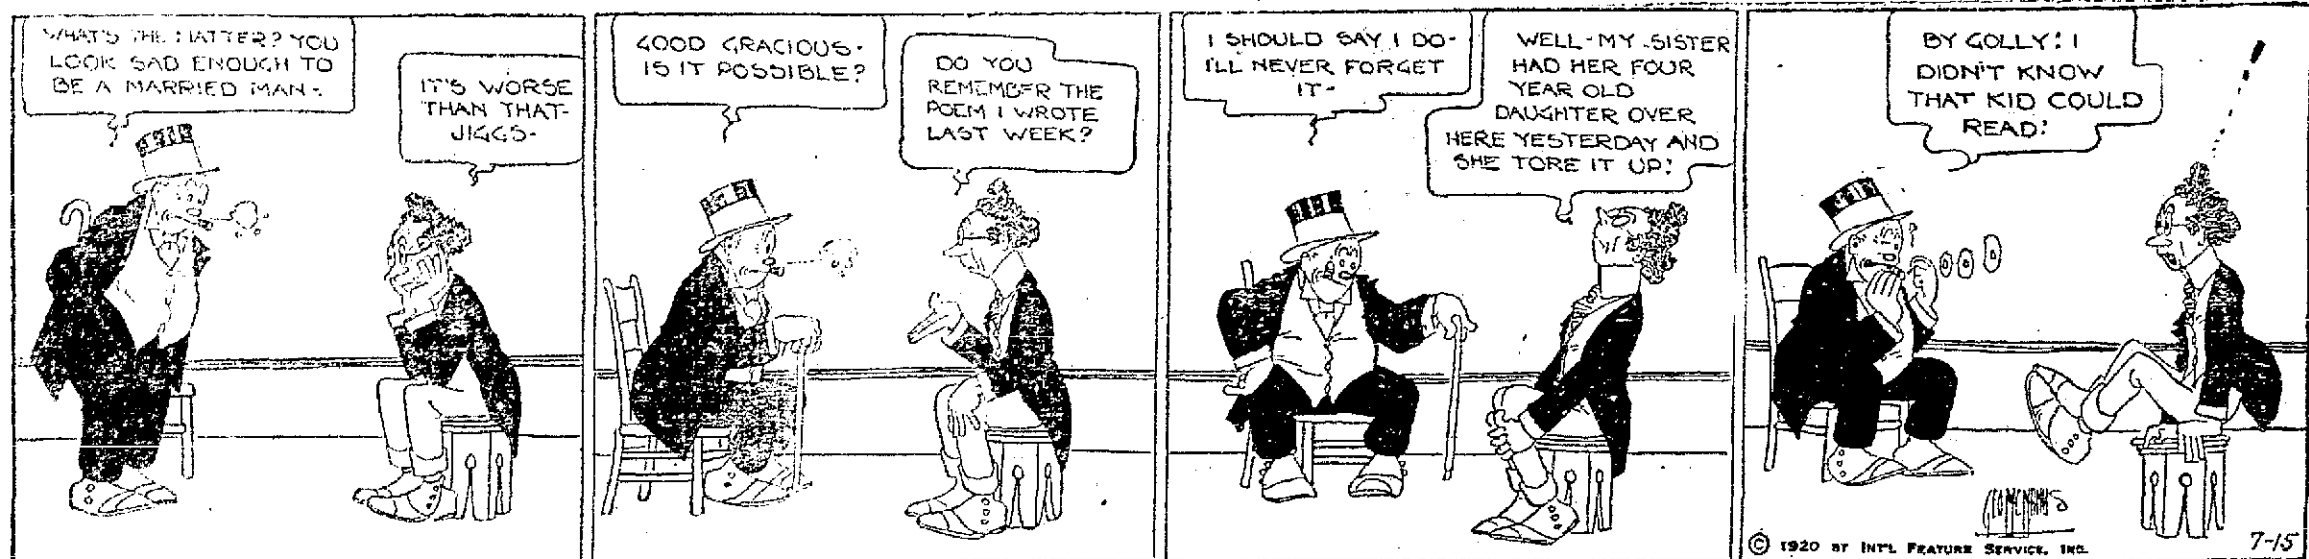

"Why that sneaky lookin' guy that's been followin' me around for the last two days. What's his big idea?"

"My gosh man!" bellowed the boss. "That's no detective. That's your helper."

An inspector of Irish schools was examining a class in geography. He had given a question in longitude and received a correct answer.

"And now," he said, "what is the latitude? Can any boy tell me?"

There was a moment's silence, and then a small voice piped up:

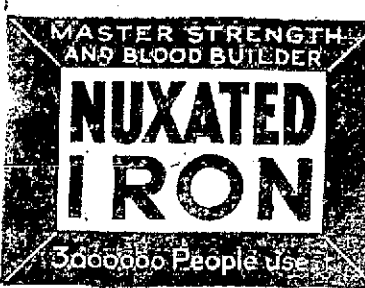

"Please, sir, we have no latitude in Ireland. My father says it's not allowed."

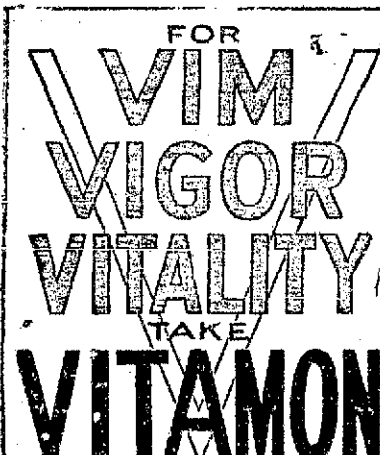

"Rip Van Winkle," said the teacher who keeps the class interested by telling stories, "went into the mountains, took a drink with some strange people and slept for twenty years."

"I don't doubt it," commented the tall, slim scholar. "There's no tellin' what some o' this moon-shine feller will do to a man."

Again Working Full Time

Springfield Man Restored to Normal Health Has Been Able to Work Full Time Since Taking Nerv-Worth.

"I was run down, hadn't any appetite, and I didn't seem to digest my food properly," said Frank Baker, 55 W. Columbia St., Springfield, Ohio. "I had bloating of the stomach and belched up gases all the time. I couldn't sleep, and suffered in the night with fluttering of the heart. The fact is, I was terribly worried as I had been deteriorating for some time but got very little relief. A friend told me about Nerv-Worth, and I got a bottle, and after taking it, I commenced to improve. On taking my second bottle, I felt so fine that I have been able to work full time. I'm eating and sleeping fine and gaining in weight. I cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth to all who are afflicted as I was." If you are one of the millions who suffer from a bad stomach, faulty digestion, and their attending ills, you should start on Nerv-Worth and get relief at once. Nerv-Worth is unequalled for stomach trouble, because it acts in a sensible way to overcome the conditions causing these troubles. It neutralizes excess acids in the stomach, stops all sourness, stops the forming of gas, and bloating. It whets the appetite, aids the whole digestive system, and at the same time that it does this, it gives nerve force, and tones and invigorates the whole system. For many years it has been one of the most successful remedies sold, and because of its wonderful work, has become known the country over as the old reliable home remedy. It is sold on a money back guarantee, and if after you have taken your first bottle, you are not satisfied, your money will be cheerfully refunded. See the Nerv-Worth specialist at Hunter's Drug Store.

HOT PLACE FOUND IN CALIFORNIA

Mercury 114 Few Hours Ride
From Cool Frisco

RESIDENTS DON'T MIND A BIT

Cox Acclaimed as Ohioans
Make Way Homeward

(BY J. W. FISHER)

BAKERSFIELD, California. — If there is any place on earth where human beings exist with temperature nearer the baking point than in the San Joaquin Valley, (pronounced San Wakin) it is difficult to conceive how anyone can live in it. The mercury mounted to 114.

From San Francisco, where the sun shines almost continuously and at 8 a. m. this day the writer was shivering in medium weight apparel, it is only a few hours ride to the heart of the great valley, famed for its wonderful fruit orchards, under irrigation and where the sun beats down with its torrid rays on dry earth and rains are unknown during the summer season and where there is no more exertion than absolutely necessary in the sunshine.

Speeding southward toward Los Angeles, El Paso, San Antonio and Dallas, homeward bound after about the liveliest and most interesting fortnight ever experienced, in attendance upon the Democratic national convention in San Francisco, the writer experienced the unpleasant change from delightful cool weather to extremely hot and while "grinding out" this comment by means of a faithful Corona on a card table in a tourist sleeper while the conductor isn't looking, no great headway can be made, on account of the necessity of desisting frequently for the purpose of mopping perspiration.

But, as Art Brisbane would say in one of his running stories, "now the sun is going down and the atmosphere is becoming cooler as we near Bakersfield, the home of oil and oranges."

This day's journey hasn't been any great shucks along the line of sight-seeing as the colored person who struts in the liver of a porter insisted all day long that windows be kept closed and blinds down, to keep out the heat. After sneaking the window open for a period of five minutes, it was ascertained that the porter knew more about the "brand" of weather in these parts than the writer does for a did.

Five hundred miles from Oakland to Los Angeles, a journey thru country where Ohioans, accustomed as they are to summer heat, would most likely shrivel up. For the most part of the way the trip unfurls to the view of those who peep out at the side of the window curtain, countless thousands of acres of irrigated lands, where citrus fruits are grown in great abundance. Entering the valley from the coast at Oakland, and emerging from it before reaching Los Angeles, the way is tortuous, around, over and under and around hills and mountains. There are many tunnels on this route.

Getting back to the subject of temperature it is recalled that Merrill D. Davis, publisher of the Imperial Valley Press at El Centro, Calif., in the Imperial Valley, whom the writer met in the San Francisco convention stated that the people of that Valley are so accustomed to intense heat that once upon a time a resident died and went to the place the preachers talk about so much, but soon returned for the purpose of getting his overcoat.

The wonderment that is entertained by Ohioans as to where all the fruit comes from would be dispelled if they visited the San Joaquin Valley. And there are many other similar places. The people down here grow fruit, eat fruit, talk fruit, dream about fruit and fight for fruit lands and irrigation rights. At Fresno I saw a train load of watermelons. Fruit packing houses at intervals of a few miles along the Southern Pacific. It is a great country for those who like it.

At most every point here the train hesitates a sufficient length of time for the passengers to alight for a few minutes, natives eagerly ask questions concerning the Democratic candidates for the presidency and the vice presidency. Governor Cox is nationally known and the people of the smallest towns down here in the hot regions of California have a knowledge of his wonderful record. The fact that the Republican and Democratic candidates are residents of Ohio, doesn't occasion any surprise, as Ohio is known as the "mother of presidents."

It isn't as yet positively established that V. J. Bryan will support the Democratic ticket and platform, as he hasn't recovered from the shock of experience before the convention. After having been accorded a wonderful ovation by the assembly, Bryan's minority report on resolutions was summarily and decisively ditched, a vote of six to one. He is quoted as having said something about his heart being dead and in the grave and that he'll have to wait until it returns to him. At the Chicago Republican convention, Bryan stated in the hearing of the writer that "no matter who the Republicans nominate here, we'll name a man in San Francisco who will defeat him at the polls." But then, maybe the Nebraskan changed his mind on this proposition, as he did on the league of nations.

High Interest Rates

Never in the country's history have there been so many securities bearing high rates of interest offered to the public. And they are all "guaranteed" to be absolutely sound.

The question of importance to the investor is, of what value is the so-called "guarantee"? What is known of the guarantors or of the business behind the securities? Promises of safety and high interest rates are easily made but not always fulfilled. Invest your money at home where you know with whom you are dealing, where you will receive a reasonable rate of interest and where the money is used to build up your own community.

You will find no better place than The Allen County Savings and Loan Company, at the corner of Market and Elizabeth Streets in the Savings Building.

You get five per cent interest and one hundred per cent safety. Their assets July first were two million, three hundred thousand dollars with a surplus of seventy-one thousand four hundred dollars.

ANCE equal to five earth-cremets, Thomas V. Shipe, rural mail carrier number three, will retire, August 24, from active service. He has reached the age of 66, a year older than the limit set by the new postal retirement law. Shipe has been in the mail service more than fifteen years. Strong and active, he has decided with his wife, to join her three sons and establish a ranch in the state of Oregon.

KENTON — Special train secured by Hardin Co. Republican Club to carry delegation to Harding notification meeting in Marion on July 22. Atger McGuffee, Foraker, Kenton and Hepburn will send large delegations on the train.

ST. MARYS — Horses and mules not the same identical animals, in use for eighty years by the St. Marys Woolen Manufacturing company about its premises, have been replaced by motor conveyances. The latest remaining horse was sold to a local transfer man.

ST. MARYS — A second one of infant triplets born Monday to Mrs. Walter J. Smith, died apparently from exhaustion. The third child, with the mother survives in apparently good condition.

ADA — During the past few days the onion crop on the Scioto Marsh has been materially damaged by hail and rain. Several planters report they had cleared the fields of weeds, gave up hopes of reaping any benefits from the crop and have abandoned the ground.

KENTON — Shipment of steers owned by Frank Hamilton and trucked into Kenton for the purpose of being sold for many months when they sold this week at $14.50, and several yearling Shorthorn heifers, averaging 700 pounds topped the Buffalo market on zero cattle for the week at $14.60.

VAN WERT — Osborn Wells made himself an unwelcome guest at the farm home of Martin Grellach of Harrison, when he loitered around the place by day and slept in the barn at night. Grellach became tired of his stay and he was brought to Van Wert in charge of Sheriff Sells. The sheriff gave him a lesson in washing clothes after which he was sent on his journey.

WAPAKONETA — Four men from the Ohio Inspection Bureau in charge of W. B. Robertson, inspector are marking survey here preparatory to the city being placed in 1-2 per cent insurance rate class instead of 4 and 4 1/2 per cent class as heretofore. Change in rates, brought about by local insurance men.

VAN WERT — A large flock of valuable chickens was destroyed by fire recently at the home of C. A. Beatts of Ft. Wayne, Ind. Mr. Beatts formerly lived in Van Wert where for many years he was instrumental in having a poultry show in the city.

KENTON — More than thirty onion dealers from all over the United States were present at the annual convention of the National Onion Growers' Association in this city. Judge Willis W. Bowers of Kenton is secretary-treasurer of this association.

VAN WERT — At a recent meeting the labor organization of the city perfected an organization which will be known as a Welfare Department. Its main object will be to protect the interests of the public in fixing rates on public utilities and to co-operate in matters pertaining to the common welfare of all.

VAN WERT — W. G. Teeple who was removed as cashier of the Wier Bank after he had allowed an overdraft of $3,000 to be drawn by the 1st State Phonograph Company of Chicago has filed suit in the Common Pleas Court of this county to restrain a number of prominent farmers in the vicinity of Wier, from taking up a note which he gave them for $7,000. He now alleges that there was no consideration in the transaction and that he was induced and persuaded by the defendants to sign the document.

NOTICE
MRS. C. A. WHEELER, 222 N. UNION, HAS DISPOSED OF HER STOCK OF BIRDS AND SUPPLIES TO THE MARKET PET STORE OF CINCINNATI AND DISCONTINUED BUSINESS.

WAPAKONETA — "I might as well say goodbye, for I am going to die," Mrs. Irvin Rapp, 35, told her husband as they were driving to their farm north of here after making a trading visit. Rapp noted the effects of self-administered poison on his wife and drove with her at breakneck speed here where prompt attention of a physician saved her life. She will recover.

VAN WERT — The death of Miss P. J. Ley of near Middle Point, which occurred recently from a fall received when the machine in which she was riding struck a ST. MARYS — Due to lack of railroad cars in which to ship crushed stone, road work is suspended on the Van Wert and River pikes. A seven-mile stretch of the former is being treated. Work is at a standstill on the St. Marys-Celina main market road paving because of non-arrival of cement.

BIG APE ROAMS NEAR MARIETTA

Animal Escaped From Zoo or Circus is Hunted

MARIETTA, Ohio.—If the Cincinnati Zoo or any rambling circus that has roamed thru Ohio, has lost a first class man-sized ape, disturbed residents of this town and the vicinity of Gravel Bank, would like to have representatives come here and inquire into the antecedents of a strange animal that has stirred the quiet folk hereabouts to a high pitch of excitement.

Rumors of what is declared to be a large specimen of the African ape, seen in a heavy woods near Gravel Bank, eight miles below here on the Ohio river, have been confirmed by the weird experience of many people. The animal is declared to have on a number of occasions disputed the right of road with persons walking in the direction of Marietta.

The other night the strange animal is declared by Archie Cassidy of Marietta, to have squatted in the road and to have refused to permit Cassidy and his party to pass. When the party offered to give the animal the road, the ape calmly moved over in front of them and blocked their passage. They returned later with an armed searching party, but the beast had disappeared. Another posse was organized after the people on a train, returning home, had seen the ape, but they found huge tracks in the under brush, the animal evidently had taken to the trees.

Several persons have fired at the animal, including William Fish, a farmer living near Gravel Bank. When frightened, those who have seen the animal report that the ape swings into the trees, jumping from branch to branch.

The ape is said to be considerably larger than a man, apparently being seven feet tall. It has not attacked any persons or livestock, and it is believed it hunts human habitation more from a desire for companionship than with the purpose of harm. When last seen the ape appeared to be well fed and at home in the woods, he has selected as his habitat.

WILL MEET AT CANTON
FREMONT, Ohio.—Canton was selected as the 1921 convention city of the Grand Encampment of the Ohio O. O. F., at their closing session yesterday. Grand officers elected last December were installed. They included Grand Patriarch John T. Lynn, of Portsmouth, and Grand Scribe F. C. Garrett, of Dayton.

CHILDLESS

WOMEN

Please Read This Letter And See What Normal Health Will Do For You.

Leicester, Pa.—"I was weak and run down, had pains in my head, back, and stomach all the time, and bearing down pains. I had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me, so my mother got me to try it again, and I am now feeling better than I have for years. We were married sixteen years and had no children, but now we have a fine big boy and we always call him our 'Pinkham boy.' The doctor was afraid of my case as I was 41 years old when the boy was born, but I came through all right. You can use this as a testimonial if you wish and I will certainly write to any one who writes to me about it."

—Mrs. MARGARET G. HAVERCAMP, 5220 Howard Avenue, Lancaster, Pa.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

AMERICANS RID QUAYQUIL OF YELLOW FEVER PLAGUE

NEW YORK.—Yellow fever experiments conducted at Guayaquil, Ecuador, by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research have rid that notorious seed-bed of the disease for the past thirteen months. Guayaquil had not been free of the menace since 1842.

The technique developed in handling the scourge in Ecuador will be of world-wide benefit in reducing mortality. Dr. Hideyo Noguchi, institute bacteriologist conducted the research at Guayaquil.

MISS BRUNSON DIES

Miss Bessie Waitman, Lima, has been called to her home near New Hampshire by the death of her sister, Miss Catherine Audrey Brunson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Brunson, Union-twp. Death resulted Tuesday after a lingering illness from tuberculosis. The young woman was 23 years of age. She attended the Waynesfield high school and county normal school and taught for two years previous to becoming ill. Another sister Mrs. Clo Smith, New Hampshire and a brother Carl with the parents survive her.

MOTHER OF SLAIN BABE MISSING FROM HOME

DEFIANCE, Ohio.—Mrs. Ida Bullock, mother of Arthur Bullock, 3, who was beaten to death by Joshua Botkins, is missing. She had been staying at Botkins' home where she was employed as housekeeper. Tuesday night she failed to come home. Two other children were taken from her and placed in a children's home. Mrs. Bullock is said by officers to have received a threatening note on Tuesday.

RECORD BOOKS ON AUTO LICENSES ARE PREPARED

Chief of Police O. J. Roush Thursday received a letter from State Registrar of Automobiles, A. G. Snow stating that books giving the names of the first 50,000 purchasers of automobile licenses in the state have been completed and will be forwarded at an early date. The list covers licenses from 190,001 to 150,000.

The state registrar said 600,000 plates for 1921 have been ordered to be ready for delivery on December 1 in order to prevent any delay in issuing them to owners as was the case this year.

GASOLINE PASSENGER CARS

FOR SEVERAL months engineers in the great automobile plant of Henry Ford have been working on a gasoline car of the interurban type which, it is hoped, will revolutionize the matter of travel to a great degree. There has been much speculation and discussion on the possibilities of this car for street railways, it being contended that it will eventually replace the electric cars now in use.

Ford will have the opportunity and has decided to test the new car out on his own railroad. It is announced that they will flit thru Lima in the near future on the old D. T. & L. railroad which Ford has just purchased to transport fuel to his and other factories in Michigan. He will use it to take care of the light passenger traffic on that road, which is chiefly of a local nature.

The car is a complete plant in itself similar to an automobile. It is equipped with heavy motors on the order of those used in motor cars and is an overgrown automobile in everything except that it is much more commodious and runs on steel tracks as does an ordinary interurban car. It is dependent upon nothing but gasoline for motive power. Sleet storms which wreck wire systems and the shortage of coal in power plants have no terror for it.

This overgrown "flivver" should have great possibilities and the test the maker will be able to put it to on his own railroad will prove its reliability. It is reasonable to believe that it will be more commercial than ordinary electric cars if it can be developed to the point where it will serve the same purpose and there seems to be no reason to believe it cannot.

MEDALS FOR HEROES

MEN who served the United States in any branch of the service during the world war are entitled to a badge of honor designed by the government and known as Victory medals. Army officers are now making arrangements for the distribution of these medals and the ex-service men of Allen-co are requested to file their application at the Army recruiting station on July 22, when an officer will be here to receive them.

These medals while they may mean little at present, will be highly prized in years to come when the hair of the heroes to whom they are presented is turning to silver. They will be reminders of a service to humanity in the defense of civilization given by the possessors. All men in the county who served in any branch should avail themselves of the opportunity to secure their medals. All that is necessary is to appear in person at the Lima recruiting office and present a discharge from the service.

OHIO AREALLY CONSIDERED

WE THINK of Ohio as comparing well with the larger states of the Union, but it is because we do not often observe the state as it appears on the map, in connection with the states of the west. With but 41,640 square miles within her borders, Ohio surpasses but thirteen other states of the Union in area.

These are West Virginia, Vermont, South Carolina, Rhode Island, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Maryland, Maine, Kentucky, Indiana, Delaware and Connecticut. Tennessee is a little larger than Ohio—about as much larger than Ohio as Ohio is larger than Kentucky.

Texas, our largest state, is so much larger than Ohio that six and a half states the size of this could be cut out of the Lone Star sister. California would give enough area to make four Ohios. Montana is not thought of usually as a large state but almost four states the size of ours could be made out of it.

Colorado would make two and a half Ohios, and Nevada, with a total population not much larger than that of the city of Columbus, would make three Ohios in area. Pennsylvania impresses the average person as a large state—considerably larger than Ohio, but as a matter of fact, it is but very little larger. Her area is 45,126 square miles.

But six Massachusetts, nineteen Delaware and thirty Rhode Islands could be made out of the territory of Ohio. So large is our territory of Alaska that more than fifteen Ohios could be made out of it.

THE FLAGPOLE CONTROVERSY

OPINION appears to be divided to some extent on the matter of removing the flagpole from the Public Square. Those opposed to taking it down seem to be in the majority and dozens of protests have come to the office of the mayor against such action. Councilmen are considering the advisability of removing it on the ground that it is dangerous.

If the pole is a menace to the public it should be removed without delay if repair is impossible. If it is found to be in such condition that it will longer serve its purpose it should be painted and Old Glory should float from its top every day in the year.

If the present pole is rusted thru and may fall at any time, a new one should replace it. But Lima must have a flagpole from which the Stars and Stripes may wave in the breeze. There are enough public-spirited citizens to take care of this matter if the city is unable financially to do so.

FROM OUR READERS

OBJECTS TO NEW HOSPITAL.

Editor, News and Times-Democrat:
After reading Lima Beane's ardent plea for a new City Hospital I made some inquiries and found that the combined facilities of the existing hospitals can adequately care for patients for several years to come. Both are well located on beautiful grounds. Both are open to patients irrespective of creed or other affiliations. I have heard patients of both speak highly of the treatment received there.

Hence I do not deem the need of a new hospital urgent enough to justify adding a huge addition to the burden of taxation resting on us. We are now being called on to vote bonds for things more urgently needed. We have one hospital that is no burden on tax payers, but a City Hospital is a burden, both for construction and to help in the maintenance.

TRAVELING MEN DIFFER

Editor News and Times-Democrat:
Referring to an article in the Lima Republican Gazette of July 13—I wonder what John T. Mervin got for becoming a full fledged member of the "Aunties Club."

I can vouch for his statement regarding the one grand fight in southern Illinois he speaks of. I happened to be there at the time. It was as he says "one grand fight." I happened to have a "grand stand" seat, know the cause of the fight and witnessed the result. Instead of the Democrat getting the "walloping" as he states, it was the Republican who got and got it good. He was a big husky weighing about 210 pounds, and the Democrat was a little fellow weighing about 130. The big fellow looked like he had gone thru a corn shredder when the little fellow got thru with the "polishing" process. What led up to the "scrimmage" was a statement that the Republican made to the effect that "The leaders of the Democrat party were a bunch of thieves and that anyone voting the Democratic ticket was no better."

Then the fun began. Governor Cox will give Senator Harding the same kind of a "dose" (the Southern Illinois Republican got. I travel much in the south and I find no such conditions down there as asserted by Mr. Mervin. The best I see laid are that the Democrats will win. In some instances they are two to one. Mr. Mervin says that he is "superstitious." He must be and in connection I wish to add that I will bet him $100 to $50 that Governor Cox will carry his own state (Minnesota) by a 50,000 plurality. I happen to know the feeling up there, not by hearing but by actual contact.

Your sincerely,
E. J. Mohan.

WHAT THE STARS PREDICT

This is an uncertain day. The popularity of certain politicians, candidates will drop with alarming suddenness thru a sensational exposure.

The stars indicate business will be good through the summer but money should be conserved as far as possible to meet an extraordinary financial condition in the autumn. Diseases of the digestive tract will be prevalent and careful diet should be observed. Labor troubles are foreshadowed under this rule. A person whose birthday this is should avoid travel this year. Children born today will be exceptionally lucky in all undertakings. (Copyright, 1920)

THE POWERFUL KATRINKA—

JUST A GIRL

A LETTER

What a comfort an understanding person is! That was just what my Father was—an understanding person.

I used to feel that no matter what I might do, he would be sure to know I meant it all right. So I up and told him all about my long walks with Kenneth. It was about a month after Kenneth had gone back to California. Fortunately, I always had breakfast with Dad while Mother had hers in the kitchen. He looked thru his mail, as usual; then he said:

"Here's a letter for you, Zena." When he handed it to me his eyes looked exactly as if he wanted to wink, but wouldn't.

It was from Kenneth. I knew by the postmark.

"Aren't you going to open it and tell a dotting parent what that Westerner has to say?" Father asked, smiling at me.

"Of course. You can read it yourself if you want to. I am positive it will be interesting."

I wasn't so sure when I drew the short note from the envelope. "Don't look so disappointed, dear; maybe he is sort of feeling his way this time."

"Dear Zena"—Kenneth began his letter, and I wondered before I read any further what Mother would say to that. Then he went on:

"I had a quick, uneventful trip home. Met no one who particularly interested me, so had plenty of time to think of the wonderful time I had in New York. Not that I cared especially for the big town itself, but the people whom I met were most gracious, so making my visit a delight."

"I wonder if you will write me just a note. I imagined you mother did not seem pleased when I spoke of writing you. Do YOU want me to write now that you have had time to think things over—or have you forgotten me? It has been a month, four long weeks, and you have so much in your life, so many friends. I scarcely dare hope you will take time for me, to write me. Yet I am hoping to hear from you; and shall go on hoping until a letter comes—no matter how long I have to wait."

"Please remember me, to your father. I enjoyed my talk with him so much. I think you are like him. I could pay you no higher compliment. Please give my regards to your mother also. I have wished she liked me better. But some day perhaps I may meet her again, and leave a different impression."

"My horse and dog welcomed me upon my return. The old Mexican woman who cooks for me told me the dog had grieved while I was away. It is something to have even a dumb beast love you enough to miss you. I wonder, do you like animals? I forgot to ask. You will have to answer my letter so that I may know. You see, to me that is a very important question: Do you like animals?"

Tomorrow—Zena's Answer.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided cocoon oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

YOUR NAME

By Philip Francis Nowland
VARIATION—Farguhar
RACIAL ORIGIN—Scottish.
SOURCE—A given name.

The family names Ferguson and Farguhar sound very little alike. Yet they are virtually the same name, originating as given names in ancient Ireland, being brought to Scotland as such, and there, under both English and medieval Latin influences, developing respectively into the foregoing forms of family names.

The name of Fergus figures prominently in the Gaelic myths, legends and history of the pre-Christian era. But the spelling Fearghus is a closer approximation as it was spelled with the old Irish alphabet.

About the period 200 A. D., before Ireland became Christianized there was a great exodus of expeditions of conquest and colonization from the north of Ireland to Scotland. The Irish clans which settled in Scotland, or Alba, as they called it then, were the progenitors of the present Gaelic portion of the Scottish race, for the most part Highlanders.

This name, which was compounded of two Gaelic words, with a meaning of "many deed," developed in Scotland into the form Fear-sach in many instances, from which the Latinized version Farguhardus was taken, later being shortened into Farguhar.

The addition of the Anglo-Saxon ending "son" to the Celtic name Fergus (a much more common mixture of tongues in Scotland than in Ireland), of course produced the family name of Ferguson.

Tomorrow—Bates.

HEALTH HINTS

By William Brady, M. D.

How Do You Function?—

Try This on Your C. V. S.

There is little to be gained by criticizing our narrow, incompetent public school system. As long as school boards are filled by politicians and old ladies of both sexes the school system must remain the huge failure it is. Fortunately the greater part of education is obtained outside of the school. Probably it is essential for the public to maintain institutions where the pedagogues may quarrel incessantly over the preferable method of teaching mathematics or English and the school book publisher may get theirs out of the spoils of every pedagogic wrangle. Meantime, those who want an education must do the best they can to get it notwithstanding the handicap of a seriously impaired, semi-organized public school.

A beautiful modern building in a city of 500,000 population is used as a high school for some 1,500 pupils. The building is but a few years old, yet contains neither gymnasium nor swimming pool nor even shower baths. And they pretend to include physical education in the curriculum. Gosh, you ought to see the stuff they so designate; it would never in the world imperil one steel stay in the teacher's abdominal splints nor would it spoil Lilly Jean's chorus lady complexion. But there is soap. They are cleaning up.

We do not die suddenly, even when the news seems fearfully abrupt. The notion of sudden death from heart disease is founded upon popular ignorance and medical chicanery. No one with heart disease can remain ignorant of the fact that his health is seriously impaired. No one with a normal mentality ignores obvious impairment of his health indefinitely and so invites disaster. When we die we die by inches. Many of us are dying now, and we will take from one to forty years to complete the process, but we are dying.

How nearly dead are you? Don't you know? You poor geek—aren't you ashamed of such ignorance?

Try this over on your cardio-vascular system:

Sit at rest reading some light nonsense such as the editorial columns or the political news for fifteen minutes. Now begin breathing a little more deeply than usual, but not hard or fast, rather like a moderate sigh, for four or five times, then hold your breath and count the seconds on your watch. The normal breathing is approximately 40 seconds. If you can't last that long you're beginning to die. But don't take it too seriously. You can come back, all right.

Mr. V. R. Morrison,

Norval Hotel,

Lima, Ohio.

My dear Mr. Morrison:

As a frequent guest at your hotel I am writing to congratulate you on your management of one of the finest modern hotels that I have visited.

One cannot help but be at ease in a place where he is made to feel so much at home, and where rates, service and appointments are so much in harmony.

As "LIMA LEADS" in all other things, so does it lead in having the "NORVAL", and it is my wish that its success with its management continue.

JUDITH of BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY

THE FIGHT AT THE JAILBIRD

As Steve fired his shot into the lamp, Bud Lee understood just what would be Steve's next play; the bartender had given his friends brief respite from the deadly fire of the Blue Lake man, and now would turn his second shot thru the window itself on the man standing there. Lee did not hesitate now, but with one leap was across the room, avoiding the table, seeking to come to close quarters with Quinn and have the thing over and done with. The bartender still leaning at his heart, he told him again that it would be no calamity to the world if the two men who had insulted Judith Sanford went down together.

Again Steve fired. His bullet ripped into the wall, tearing a hole thru the partition where a brief instant ago Lee had stood. The light out in the barroom was extinguished. In the darkness it was utterly, impenetrably dark now, only a vague square of lesser darkness telling where there was a window thru which Shorty had fled.

A red flare of flame from Steve's Quinon crouched, and Lee stood very still, refusing the temptation to fire back. For Quinn's life had sped wide of the mark, striking the wall a full yard to Lee's left. Quinn's eyes had not been closed, and would not find him soon if he stood quite motionless. The fight was still to be made, Quinn's friends would be taking a hand now, Steve had already joined issue. There were six of them against him and with one shot fired from his heavy Colt there were but five left. No shot to be wasted.

A little creaking of a floor board, a vague, misty blur almost at his side, and still Lee saved his fire. Quickly he lifted the big revolver, held it steady to a spot where he did not think above his head and striking downward. There was almost no sound; just the thudding blow as the thick barrel struck a heavy mat of hair; and with no outcry a man went down to the still. At the same moment the dim square of the window showed a form slipping thru; one man was seeking safety from a quarrel not his own. And as he went, there came again a soft thudding blow and Carson's dry voice outside, saying calmly:

"Shorty got away, but you don't pander. Give 'em hell, Bud. I'm in the play again."

"Two men down," grunted Lee to himself with grim satisfaction. "And old Carson back on the job. Only two to our one now."

The form in the window crumpled and under Carson's quick hands was jerked out. Suddenly it was very still in the little room. Steve did not fire a third time; Quinn held his fire. For Lee had made no answer and they were taking heavy chances with every shot now, chances of shooting the wrong man. Each of the four watchful men in the narrow apartment breathed softly.

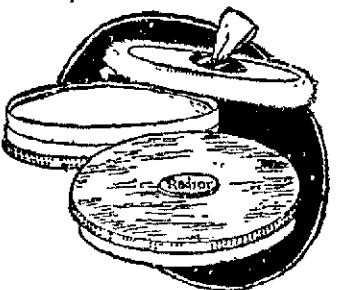

Once more Lee lifted his gun above his head. As he held it thus, he put out his left hand gently, inch by inch, gropingly. Extended full length, it touched nothing. Slowly he moved it in a semi-circle, the gun in his right hand always ready to come crashing down. His fingers touched the wall, then moving back, assuring him that the way was clear, he lifted a foot slowly, he took one cautious step forward, toward the spot where he had last seen Quinn. Again his arm, circling thru the darkness, sought to locate for him one of the men who must be very near him now. Suddenly it brushed a man's shoulder.

There was a sharp, muttered exclamation, and again a flare of red flame as his man fired. But he had misjudged Bud Lee's position by a few inches, the bullet cut thru Lee's coat, and Lee's clubbed revolver fell unheeding, smashing into the man's forehead. There was a low moan, a revolver clattered to the floor, a body fell heavily.

"A new situation," thought Lee. Three men down before a clock could tick off as many minutes and not a single shot. It was a place for a man like Charlie Miller with his old pick-handle.

"Bud," called Carson's voice sharply, "are you all right?"

"Yes," answered Lee briefly, and as he answered sharply to one side so that his voice might not draw a shot from Quinn or the other men. There came two spurts of flame, one from each of the corners of the room opposite him, the reports of the two shots reverberating loudly. But this was mere guesswork—shooting at no more definite than a man's voice, and Lee having moved swiftly had little fear. And he knew pretty well where those two men were now.

So did Carson, who from without fired in twice thru the window. Then again it grew so silent that a clock ticking somewhere out in the barroom was to be heard distinctly, so that again the men guarded their breathing.

Lee thought that he knew where Quinn was, in the corner at his right close to the rear wall. Not square in the corner, of course, for having fired he was fox enough to shift his position a little. True, no sound had told of such a movement. But Quinn could be trusted to make no sound at a time like this. Lee, equally silent, again set a slow foot out, moving cautiously toward the spot where his eyes sought Quinn in the dark.

Quinn was calculating swiftly now. Quinn had fired twice from the screen of the table just as Steve shot out the light; he had fired again just now, it was a fair bet that at least one of the other shots had been hit. That means that he had fired four times. If Quinn still carried his old six-shooter he had but two shots at the most left to him, for there had been no time which he would risk in reloading.

Lee swept off his hat and tossed it out before him to the spot where he hoped Quinn was and dropped it swiftly to his knee as he did so. There was a snarl, Quinn's evil snarl, and a shot that sped high above his head. His hat had struck Quinn full in the face. Then Lee again sprang forward, again struck out with his clubbed revolver. The blow missed Quinn's head, caught him heavily on the shoulder and sent him staggerin back against the wall. Lee could hear the bulk of his body crashing against the boards. And again Lee pounced on him. This time there was a snarl, but falling weights and silence.

There was a sound of a chair violently thrown down, the scuffle of hasty feet and in the door the faint blur of a flying figure seeking refuge in the bar. Lee flung the cupped door shut after the fugitive and then with his left hand struck a match, his revolver ready in his right.

Holding the tiny flame down toward the floor, he made out two prone bodies. One, that of the first man he had struck, down, a man whom he knew by name as Lefty Devine, a brawler and boon companion of Quinn. The other Quinn himself. Devine lay very still, clearly completely stunned. Quinn moved a little.

Carson's weather-beaten face peered in at the window. "Better do the hot foot, Bud," he grunted softly, "while the trail's open. Steve will be mixing in again in a minute in no haste now. When the match had burned out, he dropped it and slipped fresh cartridges into his gun. That done, he stooped, gathered up Quinn's feebly struggling body in his arms, and carried it to the window.

"Here," he said coolly to Carson. "Take him thru."

"What the hell do you want of him?" Carson wanted to be told. "Ain't going to scalp him, are you, bud?"

"Take him out," commanded Lee with no explanation. Carson obeyed, jerking the now complaining Quinn out back, and unceremoniously, Lee told Steve as Steve threw open the barroom door.

"It's a new one on me just the same," said Carson dryly as he watched Lee stoop and gather Quinn up in his arms. "After a little party like this one, I'm generally travelling on an 'n' not stopping to pick flowers an' gather souvenirs! You ain't got cannibal blood in you have you Bud?"

While Carson was cudgelling his brain for the answer and Steve was parry," he said bluntly. "He is a liar and a crook and an undesirable citizen. I have told him all that before. He took it upon himself to say about town that I am all of those things which he is himself. I have damn near killed him for it; I am going to give him ten minutes to get out of town. If he doesn't do it, I am going to kill him. And in that ten minutes he is going to find time to eat his words."

"I'll see you in—" began Quinn, as something of the old bluster came back to him.

"Shut up!" snapped Lee. "Carson, let me have your gun."

Carson, wondering, gave it. Lee dropped it on the floor at Quinn's foot.

"Pick that gun up and we'll finish what we've begun," he said coolly to Quinn. "I won't shoot until you've got it in your hand and have straightened up. Then I'll kill you. Unless first you admit that you are the contemptible liar every one knows you are, and second, get out of town and stay out. It's up to you, Quinn."

Knowing Quinn, the men moved swiftly so that they did not stand behind either him or Lee. Sandy Weaver, shifting a few feet along his bar, shook his head and sighed. "I'll be both of them," he muttered.

Quinn turned his head a little, his red-rimmed eyes going from face to face, his tongue moving back and forth between his lips. For an instant his eyes dropped to the gun at his feet, and a little spasmodic contraction of his body showed that he tempted to take up the weapon. But he hesitated, and again turned to Lee.

"It's up to you," repeated Lee. "If you're not a coward after all, pick it up." Lee's hands were at his sides, his own revolver in his pocket.

Quinn was tempted. The evil lights in his eyes danced like witch-fires. Again he hesitated; but his hesitation was brief. With his whining, ugly laugh he lurched to the bar.

"Glumme a drink, Sandy," he commanded.

"Neither now nor after while," Sandy told him briefly. "I ain't dillyin' my glasses that-a-way."

"There you are," jeered Quinn, with a sudden sort of defiance. "You wait me over the head while I ain't lookin' an' then you bring me in here where they're all your friends. If I drop you I get all muzzed up with their bullets. No thanks."

"For the last time," said Lee, and his low voice was ominous. "I tell you what to do. If you don't do it, I'll kill you just the same. You've got your chance. Count ten seconds, Sandy."

"One," said Sandy, watching the clock on the wall, "two, three, four, five, six, seven—"

"Curse you!" cried Quinn then, a look of fear at last in his eyes. "I'll get you for this some day, Bud Lee. Now you've got me—"

"Keep on counting, Sandy," commanded Lee.

"Eight," said Sandy, "nine—"

"I lied!" snapped Quinn. "An' I'm leaving town for a while."

And lurching as he walked, he made his way out of the room, his eyes on the floor, his face a burning red.

"Carson and I are tiding back to the ranch as soon as our horses get up and get some grain," said Lee, his fingers slowly rolling a brown cigarette. "We'll mosey out now, see Quinn on his way and drop back to make up a little game of draw for a couple of hours. Stride you about right, Billy? And you, Watson? And you, Parker?"

They listened to him, took the one from him, and allowed that lay between him and Chris Quinn to be in silence. But there was not a man there but in his own fashion was saying to himself. "It's a good beginning where's the end going to be?" (To be continued)

The Good Farewell of Pebecco

What sort of taste does your dentifrice leave in your mouth?

The taste left by Pebecco Tooth Paste is not the taste of Pebecco; it's the taste of complete, wholesome cleanliness.

The way your mouth tastes when you wake up in the morning is something very personal to you, and we don't propose to talk about it.

But the way your mouth tastes after using Pebecco Tooth Paste is something worth talking about. It's the way your body feels after a bath—the way your scalp feels after a shampoo. Pebecco leaves a blessed, cool, bright feeling of being thoroughly cleaned and refreshed. A smile will fit your mouth after using Pebecco and your teeth will gleam behind the smile.

LOVE AND MARRIED LIFE

BY IDA MCGLOTH GIBSON

MY PLAN OF HANDLING JOHN

John said nothing more, but I noticed Charles was not taking us back to the hotel. I pretended not to notice until we stopped in front of his mother's house, and then I observed, "Don't stop long, John because I am very tired and I probably will be asleep when you return to the hotel."

"But I am not returning to the hotel," was his surly rejoinder. "Oh, aren't you? Then you will pardon me for saying 'good night,' as you know that this has been my first outing, and it has been rather exciting, hasn't it?"

"Out-out the sarcasm, Katherine," he said roughly, "and get out of the motor and behave yourself."

"I will get out of the motor if you wish, but unless you wish me to call a taxi, I will tell the chauffeur to move on. I am in a hurry to get to bed and it is time to nurse Mary."

"Don't bring our baby as well as your chauffeur into this," I said. "I am not, I am just asking you to tell my chauffeur to drive me back to the hotel so that I can keep the baby from fretting."

John is surprised. "Do you mean to tell me, Katherine," said John, in tones of surprise, "that you still insist upon going back to the hotel? Why, I told the manager this afternoon that after tonight you would not need the rooms."

"Then you can tell the manager in the morning that you have changed your mind. For unless you wish to make a scandalous story that will resound thru this town and perhaps reach the papers you will keep those rooms at the hotel until you are ready to take me to my new home. I will be perfectly willing to go into it as soon as you can arrange for the comfort and care of the baby and adequate living facilities for myself."

For a moment John was too furious to speak. He knew that it would be impossible to stem the storm of gossip should I hold my resolve. For once, John Gordon was bearded and bested by a woman, and I think he hated me more than anything else in the world at that moment. But I also think that at that moment he began to look upon me with a new respect. For once he knew that it was he who would suffer from gossip and that all sorts of stories would be in circulation when it was found that I was living at one place and he at another. For the first time I think he realized that I had been the one who had kept the tongues of his enemies—and of his friends—from speaking of his relations with Elizabeth Moreland.

"Katherine," he said, rather tremulously, "I never thought you would treat me this way."

"I never thought I would either, John," I answered, and I had to tell myself not to weaken, "but I have decided upon my stand and raised my standard. I will never again be the kind of a wife I described at the club as the 'dominant' kind."

"Then you intend to become a shrew."

"Threatens to Call Taxi. I intend to become nothing of the kind. I certainly have shown no inclination to be shrewish this evening. Have I? But what is the use of standing here in the street to-night? Shall I drive you? If you really do not intend to come with me, John, I must say good-night. It you will not order the chauffeur to take me back to the hotel, I will call a taxi from the drug store on the corner."

John just looked at me, then got back in the motor without a word. My chauffeur understood, however, and turned and took us back to the hotel.

When we arrived the manager was evidently waiting for us. "I am sorry that you are going to leave us," Mrs. Gordon said, "and particularly sorry that you made up your mind so suddenly as you know that I made you a special price on the rooms for a week and I have refused the rental of them to someone else."

"Mr. Gordon made a mistake," I answered sweetly. "Going out of town he did not realize that our house was not ready. I will keep them for a week at least."

I could not help smiling in my heart, as I knew that John was boiling, but he dared not say one word. When we arrived in our rooms he immediately undressed and retired without a word.

I took a hot bath, nursed my baby and returned her to the nurse's care, went thru my usual grooming and finally tucked myself in bed at least one hour after John. I knew that he was not asleep and I knew that it had been torture for him to be as still as he had been doing, but pursuing my resolutions as to my mode of conduct in the future with John Gordon, I determined that he should speak first, and should at least tacitly apologize by his manner if not his tongue. I did not intend, however, to refer to the matter again unless he brought it up.

Reviews the Past. Before I went to sleep I reviewed what had occurred since I left my home to come back here, and I came to the conclusion that while I might not be able to live with John Gordon under the rules I had laid down for myself so recently, yet it would be impossible to live with him in the future under any other rules of conduct.

Just before I lost consciousness in sleep I found myself speculating on the number of women who were at this hour of the night having the same thoughts as I. I had gotten all over the idea that I was the most abused woman in the world or that my situation was unique. I knew at that moment that one of the phases of this equality that is coming to women so rapidly was to be the very different adjustment of the marriage relation—that, like everything else, the equality of women must start in the home.

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

LINDSEY PLEADS FOR NANNY

July 7 — Am quite used to my shorn locks now, and so is every one else, in fact I have had several compliments about same. My small sister was more surprised than anyone, for mother has kept her hair bobbed for the last five years and more — and Nanny is simply pining away for long, luxurious locks, such as I was weary of! That's how life is sometimes — topsy-turvy. What one person doesn't want, another is aching for.

Well, I did her a good turn, queer little creature that she is (for after all, Nanny is very young, and must be forgiven for her many offenses). I went to mother and asked her to let one member of the family, at least, be conventional in their life and appearance — and as it was more than evident that I could not, or rather would not, be that one, it must of necessity be Nanny — so it would be best if her hair were now allowed to grow long, to make up for my shortcomings!

Mother actually agreed, and without any argument at all. And as for Nanny, she was so effusive in her thanks to yours truly that I was mightily embarrassed. She's really a sweet, little kid, tho, that's just between you and me. Little book—you hear?

Last night when I went to bed I found a red rose under my pillow, and a scrawly note from Nanny (thanking me for my goodness to her and swearing allegiance to me and mine in the future — no matter what dirt I may do — or words to that effect. It was most touching.

Mother insisted that I go shopping with her this morning — had to buy a wardrobe trunk and innumerable odds and ends for the trip. It was quite exciting but could have been much more so if I was doing same in an independent way — say as a new bride or just on my own hook. We got the best looking trunks and all sorts of "nothings," which was dull work, to say the least, likewise traveling bags for both of us. Mother was very generous, and let me pick and choose to my heart's content.

I am really getting terribly excited about the whole trip — now that the time for departing draws near. Of course I feel sad about leaving the friends I love — and Jack and others, but it is for my own advancement — and therefore good.

I still feel that it would be wonderful to be starting off alone — yes, quite alone — just as a wide-eyed, young student, with all the hopes and dreams of a student in one's heart, and not most modest demands. That is the real way to see Europe. It is not the dollars that bring one fun nor experience, nor lovers — no indeed, it is just the high heart and hopes of youth, plus unbounded faith in one's own ability and ambition. A boundless ambition to do or die, to bring the whole world to one's feet, and be able to pick and choose therefrom, that makes life in Europe a golden memory. Many a poor, young artist has found this out, to his eternal joy.

The very smell of my new trunk was exhilarating, lo, and I stooped and patted its shiny sides when no one was looking, and thought of the countless dreams and secrets that would be packed into its four corners. And again I longed to be setting out alone, in search of The Great Adventure, and Sir Galahad, mayhap! I wanted to be all alone on the steamer — so alone that there was a possibility of being caught in the arms of Chance — any arms at all, just so long as they belonged to the unknown and mysterious, for of such is the Kingdom of Romance composed. Youth demands Romance — no matter what price must be paid for it!

Oh, the exquisite joy of looking into unknown faces — far from home — of being desired by the stranger at your gates, or passion door and of dancing deliciously with some Man-o-the-Moon — who is as handsome as he is unknown to you and yours! Do you get me?

INDUSTRIAL TRACK AND FIELD MEET LABOR DAY ASSURED

FACTORIES ORGANIZE LIMA Y INDUSTRIAL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TO PROMOTE BIG SPORT EVENT—WILL BE ANNUAL AFFAIR HEREAFTER

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD CHANGE

WEDNESDAY'S HERO — Fenwick, the Red Sox hurler, rushed in the ninth inning of the first game and stopped a Tiger rally, winning 6 to 5, and went back in the second game and shut them out 4 to 0.

Sam Rice's homer, with two on bases in the fifth, and a pass and three triples in a row in the eighth, enabled Washington to beat the White Sox 6 to 4.

Mann's home run, the first out of the park in Pittsburgh this season, was wasted as the Pirates won from the Braves 4 to 3.

Babe Ruth hit his 28th homer and passed three times by Davis. The Yankees lost to the Browns 7 to 3.

The Indians overcame a three-run lead acquired off Cleveland in the first inning and beat the Athletics 5 to 3.

The Giants hit three of Ricker's pitches hard and beat the Cards 7 to 1.

The champion Reds had to go ten innings to win from the Phils 3 to 2.

The Dodgers strengthened their hold on first place by taking a double-header from the Cubs at 3 to 2, and 4 to 1.

AKRON. — The New York Giants are scheduled to meet the Akron International league club in an exhibition game Thursday afternoon in the first game of a double-header. Akron meets Baltimore in the night cap session.

DETROIT. — Bryan Downey, Columbus, shaded Soldier Bartfield, New York, in ten round match.

BOSTON. — Everett Scott, the star Red Sox shortstop went further on his way to a world's record in Wednesday's double-header with the Tigers, by running his string of consecutive games up to 601.

JOLLEY-CHENOWETH 34 OFF REDUCTION SALE NOW ON.

BY JOE BERNSTEIN

INITIAL steps to pave the way to the biggest athletic event that the city has ever seen, were taken Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A. with the temporary organization of the Lima Y Industrial Athletic Association.

The principal object of the association will be the promotion of an annual industrial field and track meet that will surpass anything in the way of athletics that has yet been attempted in Lima.

Plans as outlined for the proposed first annual track and field meet to be held on Labor Day of this year, met with the approval of some eight factories that were represented at the meeting and they were urged to be rushed to completion.

Officers of the temporary organization as elected Monday night are: I. A. Crawford, Solar Refinery, chairman; J. W. Beall, Ohio Steel Foundry, vice chairman; S. C. Biddle, Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Another meeting has been called for Monday night of next week when it is hoped that representatives from every factory, no matter what its size may be, will be present to take part in further planning.

Representatives of factories assembled at the meeting last Wednesday night expressed their approval of the proposal to make the event similar to the intercollegiate field and track events, in order that a higher plane of athletic competition might be developed.

Secretary Biddle expressed confidence that should the affair prove a success as expected, the possibility of choosing a city industrial track and field team for competition with towns where such teams hold sway, looked good, and that this would be the ultimate aim of the present organization.

Now that the field and track meet is assured, the committee as organized last night, announced that the factory teams of the city are at liberty to call for volunteers and organize their teams at any time they see fit, beginning Thursday.

The committee urged the factory chairmen of athletics and sports, in their plants assume charge at once and issue calls for volunteers for the teams.

A training period for the purpose of perfecting the form of the men who will participate in the events of the program will be necessary, it was thought.

FACTORY TEAMS TO ORGANIZE AT ONCE

Now that the field and track meet is assured, the committee as organized last night, announced that the factory teams of the city are at liberty to call for volunteers and organize their teams at any time they see fit, beginning Thursday.

The committee urged the factory chairmen of athletics and sports, in their plants assume charge at once and issue calls for volunteers for the teams.

COMMITTEE WILL REPORT PROGRAM AT NEXT MEETING

The tentative program for the first annual industrial track and field meet to be held this year on Labor Day, and probably at Fawcett park under the auspices of the Lima Y Industrial Athletic Association, is as follows (events are not in order of running. That will be determined later.)

100 yard dash	220 yard dash
440 yard run	330 yard run
1 mile run	2 mile walk
120 yard high hurdles	220 yard low hurdles
12 pound shot put	56 pound hammer throw discus throw	javelin throw
high jump	broad jump

This program is subject to change by the industrial Athletic association, but will be the basis for the meet. Some of the regular events were left out, under the assumption that they were too difficult for the first year.

This program will be presented to the association by the program committee, the events to be used in the meet.

TRACK ACES AT HARVARD FOR FINALS

CAMBRIDGE — The soil of Harvard stadium, which has been pounded by some of the most famous feet in the world, will be perforated Thursday and Friday by the spiked shoes of the greatest array of athletes ever assembled in the United States.

The Olympic games of 1904 in St. Louis will have nothing in quantity and quality to compare with the cream of the east, west, north, south, the army and navy that will fight for the honor of wearing Uncle Sam's shield in the Antwerp classics.

At least 300 star track and field performers, who have already gone thru one week-end out process in the sectional trials, will make their supreme bid for a place on the team in the final trials that will be held in conjunction with the national A. A. U. outdoor championships.

One hundred and seventy-four officially certified Olympic candidates — 43 from the Pacific Coast, 41 from the middle-west, 15 from the south and 75 from the east have been submitted for the finals by the sectional committees. Almost an equal number will come from the divisional trials of the army and navy and the number will be augmented by aspirants for the national championships which are unrestricted.

The members of the teams will be picked here by the American committee tomorrow night after the close of the two-day meeting.

In addition to being individual battles, a spectacular fight is bound to be staged between the university clubs for the distinction of placing the most number of members on the team.

The club fight will be between the New York Athletic Club, the Meadowbrook Club of Philadelphia, the Boston Athletic Club, the Olympic Club of San Francisco, the Spokane Athletic Club, the Chicago Athletic Association, the Illinois Athletic Club and the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

BOATS READY TO RACE FOR CUP

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J. — An eight-mile breeze from the southwest, likely to freshen, a glassy sea and overcast skies at an early hour Thursday indicated unsettled weather would prevail at noon Thursday when the Shamrock IV and Resolute cross the line on their 30-mile race for America's cup.

As twilight before dawn, the Shamrock's crew were breakfasted and put aboard the challenger before 6 a. m. There was no sign of life on the Resolute an hour later, altho her main sail was still to be bent on "The Shamrock's" huge sail was bent on Wednesday.

The white-clad Lipton men bustled about the deck, grooming the racer with microscopic eyes. Far up the towering mast, a white figure sat cross-legged around the truck. Beneath, on the glistening deck, every rope, line, cleat and block was examined. The canvas covers were taken from the sails and the halyards tested.

The challenger and the defender, moored a half mile apart, bobbed courteously to each other, thru the wispy haze and burnished Sandy Hook bay.

Shamrock will not use the club topsail she was measured with and will be allowed to deduct 15 seconds from her handicap with a smaller sail.

The handicap which the Shamrock must concede was placed at seven minutes, 15 seconds, by the race committee, the greatest handicapper ever allowed.

The Resolute will go to the start a 2 to 1 favorite. Close to $50,000 has been wagered but this amount seems rather trivial in comparison with some of the past races in which as high as $500,000 changed hands.

Use of wireless by the press in covering the races and airplanes as carriers for the spectators, will be novelties. Perhaps the smallest crowd in the history of the races will view the classic. This is due to new safety restrictions which prevent many excursion boats from going beyond the three-mile limit. The race cannot go over six hours as the rules require that it cannot be sailed or finished after sundown.

Resolute is to carry a crew of 35 in command of "Skipper" Charles F. Adams, of Boston, while Shamrock IV will have a crew of 40 in command of Captain William P. Furton.

The start will be from an imaginary line off Ambrose Lightship. The starting signal will be set on the committee boat at 10:45.

Coming to Lima Soon—News of Local Theaters

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

"EASY TO GET," photoplay scheduled for release next week, stars Miss Marguerite

Clark.

This appearance of Miss Clark on the screen follows upon the heels of another, a note that she's been kidnapped and he must bring $5,000 to ransom her. But the people she's hired to stage the ransom are bad 'uns. They make it real and keep the $5,000!

A bouquet for the director who didn't have our slim hero down all six husky kidnappers in a whirlwind battle.

The picture will be shown here soon.

AT THE REGENT

"The Mollycoddle," starring Douglas Fairbanks, is the feature at the Regent today.

where she will be joined next week
by her sisters, Constance and Norma.

In Norma Talmadge's new picture
"Yes or No" she appears as a blonde for the first time in her cinema career.

Rural settings predominate in Equity's newest release "Whispering Devils," which stars Conway Tearle and Rosemary Theby.

Following the completion of "Curtain," Katherine MacDonald will spend some time at Laguna Beach.

William Faversham, now a Selsnick star, appeared in "Aristocracy"

when it was produced November 14, 1893.

Chinatown is the local for "Outside The Law" which stars Priscilla Dean.

MUTT AND JEFF—THE JOKE OF IT IS THAT SPIVIS BELIEVES EVERYTHING JEFF TELLS HIM—

By BUD FISHER

Short Shavings

Some of the old-time workers have not yet grown accustomed to the new regime.

One of them, who had been a shoveler man all his life, but had just been in the particular job sent to the boss one morning with a 100 per cent grievance.

"Look here," he expostulated, "I may be a shoveler and all that, but I'm not a 100 per cent shoveler. You don't need to have that done."

What's the matter? You look sad enough to be a married man.

IT'S WORSE THAN THAT, JIGGS.

GOOD GRACIOUS—IS IT POSSIBLE?

DO YOU REMEMBER THE ROOM I WROTE LAST WEEK?

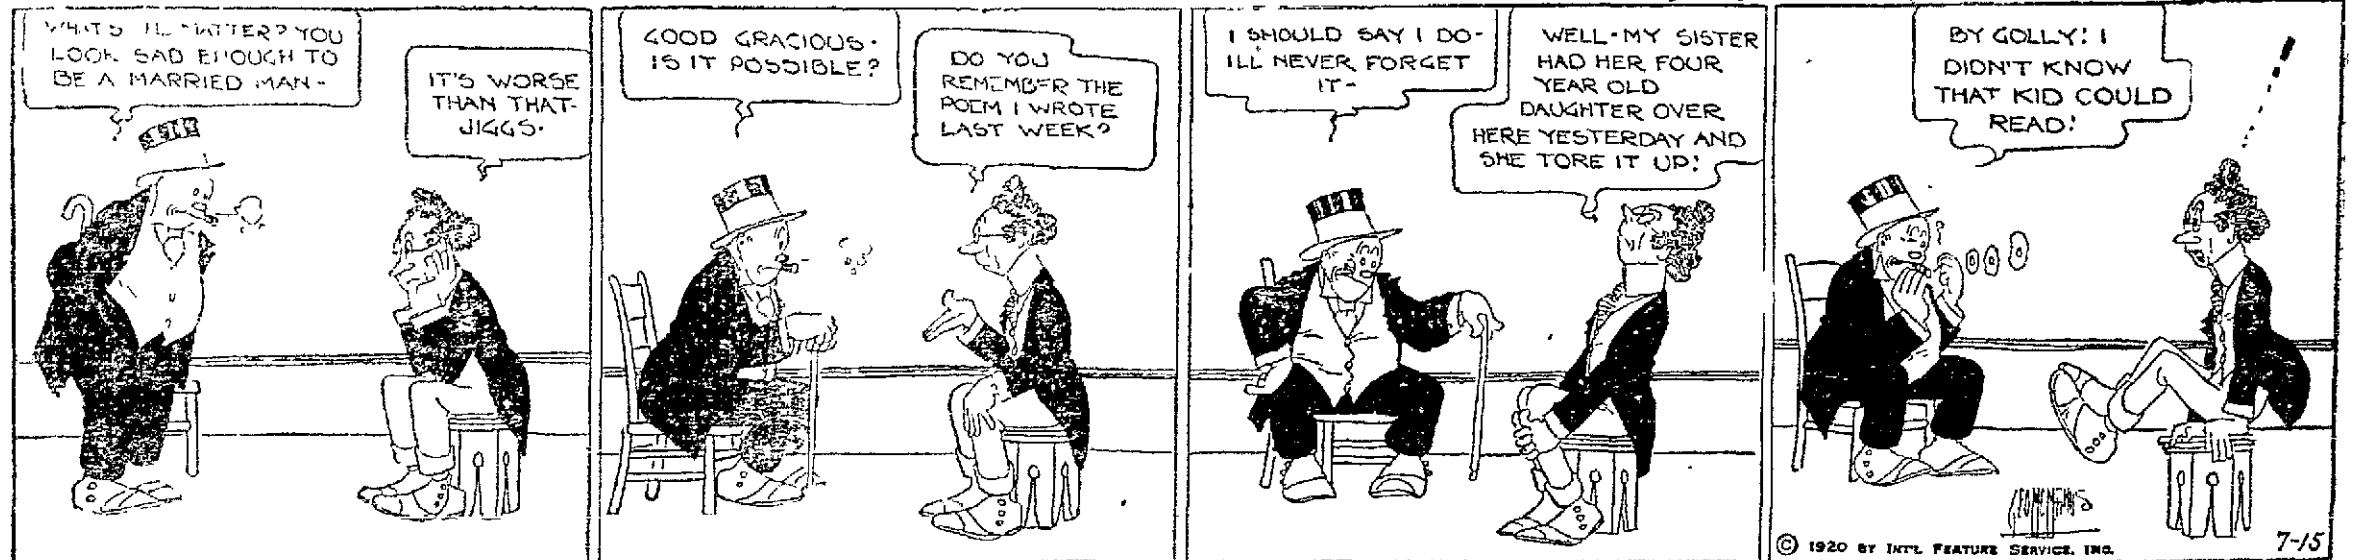

I SHOULD SAY I DO—I'LL NEVER FORGET IT.

Again Working Full Time

Springfield Man Restored to Normal Health Has Been Able to Work Full Time Since Taking Nerv-Worth.

I was run down, hadn't any appetite, and I didn't seem to do any good work. I was a clerk at the Springfield, Ohio. I had bloating of the stomach and belching up gases all the time. I couldn't sleep and suffered at night with fluttering of the heart. The doctor said I was worried as I had been a clerk for some time but got very little relief. A friend told me about Nerv-Worth and I got a bottle, and after taking it I commenced to improve. On taking my second bottle I felt so fine that I have been able to work full time. I'm eating and sleeping fine and gaining in weight. I can fully recommend Nerv-Worth to all who are afflicted as I was. If you are one of the millions who suffer from a bad stomach, faulty digestion, and their attending ills, you should start on Nerv-Worth and get relief at once. Nerv-Worth is an equalizer for stomach trouble because it acts in a sensible way to overcome the conditions causing these troubles. It neutralizes acids in the stomach, stops all sourness, stops the forming of gas, and restores the appetite. It aids the whole digestive system, and at the same time that it does this it gives nerve force, and tones and invigorates the whole system. For many years it has been one of the most successful remedies sold, and because of its wonderful work has become known the country over as the old reliable home remedy. It is sold on a money back guarantee and if after you have taken your first bottle, you are not satisfied, your money will be cheerfully refunded. See the Nerv-Worth specialist at Hunter's Drug Store.
